APPLICATION

When you are struggling to get along with another person, do you tend to internalize the struggle or voice that with others? If you wrestle internally, discuss a way you can choose to bless that person. Maybe it is journaling a gracious prayer over them and praying that to the Lord. If you tend to process with others, discuss how you can balance speaking blessing as you share and also be honest regarding the situation.

Jesus wept over Lazarus even though He was about to resurrect him - He knew joy was minutes away and yet still took time to grieve with others. Share examples of how you have wept with someone who was weeping and/or rejoiced with those who were rejoicing.

We know God has made each of us differently for His purposes and that in doing so it reveals different things about Himself. What are ways that we can find common ground with others, though we are different, and seek to live in harmony?

As believers, we should be wildly kind and generous because we are overflowing to others the goodness of God we have experienced ourselves. Take some time to encourage each other with passages of Scripture about God's goodness.
